

About Me- Craig Lockwood

My name is Craig Lockwood I am a P.G.A Professional and Head Professional at Forrester Park Golf Club.

I have been involved in golf for 20 years which has developed my great passion for the game.

I understand and know just how frustrating this beautiful game can be and that we all need help with our game at times.

This has led me into coaching and helping others improve their own game here at Forrester Park. This is extremely rewarding as I have seen great success with all clients. My coaching Techniques are kept as simple as possible for all to understand. Whether you are a Professional or a complete beginner, whatever your ability I can improve your game.

Wolfrace Wheels are affiliated to me, as they are my sponsors for the 2011/2012 season.

Wolfrace Wheels are an automotive alloy wheel company that distribute their products on a world wide scale.

The relationship between myself and Wolfrace Wheels has grown within the last year. We both share a passion for quality, perfection and performance, we both know what it takes to get to the top, and the hard work required to stay there.

Please free feel to follow my progress on the P.G.A east Region tour on the Wolfrace Wheels website.
